Helen Fospero

TV Journalist

Helen Fospero is a well-respected TV journalist and corporate host, known for her warmth, attention to detail and professionalism.

Helen has worked for all of the UK's main broadcasters as a correspondent and presenter - including Sky News, Five, ITV Breakfast, BBC1's The One Show and consumer show Watchdog. Helen lived in New York as ITV's U.S. Correspondent for three years and was the only British TV journalist to witness the Twin Towers come down on September 11th. She's interviewed Prime Ministers, Royalty, celebrities, CEOs, members of the public, and puts everyone at their ease.

Helen is an experienced and popular facilitator/host for corporate events including conferences and awards ceremonies. Her clients include Rolls Royce, Barclays Bank, RICS, Pioneer Investments and Hyundai. Her work has taken all over the world - to South Korea, Shanghai, America, Africa, Europe and more.

“You were the star of the show, I got a lot of compliments from the speakers that you made engaging conversations and they felt comfortable in the panel discussion. Keep up the work and I look forward to working with you soon again.”

Cognitive Publishing

“A huge thanks for really making our awards ceremony, the clients were delighted with the whole evening and there was lots of praise for you!”

Paper and Pulp Association

“Helen is relentless in her preparation so has a firm grasp on the business issues we are addressing and the rationale for the change the meeting is intended to drive. This makes her not only very effective as a facilitator but she literally becomes a vital member of our team.”

Barclays UK Retail Bank

“Helen brought GM’s celebrations in Cologne alive. She fronted the four-hour live show in front of 6,000 dealership owners from all over the world. 32 languages were spoken in the arena and Helen took great care to make sure every pronunciation was correct. Her warmth, charm and professionalism wowed us all.”
