

kirbyjones

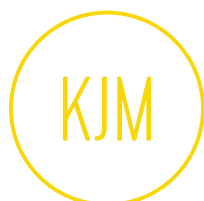

managing and representing influential speakers

Ian King

Business Presenter, Sky News

Book Ian King for your event: 020 3713 7291 / 07855 774508 / penny@kirbyjones.co.uk

Ian King

Business Presenter, Sky News

Ian King is the leading business presenter on Sky News and hosts his own show, Ian King Live, which is broadcast live at 10am Monday to Friday. He interviews the biggest names in business, finance and economics where he tackles the big stories of the day and holds business leaders and CEOs to account.

Ian has interviewed two-thirds of FTSE-100 chief executives and several prime ministers from around the world. Renowned for his hard-hitting interviews and acute analysis, Ian's expertise ensures his coverage is relevant to the viewer, explaining how actions in business will affect people's lives.

Ian is an experienced speaker and conference chair as well as being a perfect moderator, with clients including EY, Association of Business Recovery Professionals, Management Consultancy Association and CBRE.

Ian has been a business journalist for national newspapers and on television for more than 25 years. Ian started out as an analyst at HSBC before embarking on his journalism career at the Daily Telegraph. He went on to The Guardian and then the Mail on Sunday, before joining The Sun as Business Editor in 2000. Whilst there he was named Business Journalist of the Year both at the UK Press Awards and at the London Press Club Awards. Ian went on to become Business and City Editor at The Times.

Ian's views are highly sought after and well respected within the business community.

Ian King

Business Presenter, Sky News

“Please pass on our thanks to Ian, he was brilliant, the audience were really engaged, he gave a great speech, took lots of questions and came across so well and the overall feedback has been extremely positive.”

CBRE

“MCA absolutely loved him, please do pass ours thanks over. He managed to outshine Bojo!”

Management Consultancy Association

